

UKRAINIAN CULTURE AFTER COMMUNISM

Guest Editor: SERHY YEKELCHYK

INTRODUCTION - SERHY YEKELCHYK	1
ARTICLES
MYKOLA RYABCHUK, The Ukrainian “Friday” and the Russian “Robinson”: The Uneasy Advent of Postcoloniality	7
MARKO PAVLYSHYN, Defending the Cultural Nation before and after 1991: Ivan Dziuba	25
CATHERINE WANNER, Religion and Refugee Resettlement: Evolving Connections to Ukraine since World War II	44
MYROSLAV SHKANDRIJ, The Shifting Object of Desire: The Poetry of Oleksandr Irvanets	67
MARIA G. REWAKOWICZ, Geography Matters: Regionalism and Identities in Contemporary Ukrainian Prose	82
VITALY CHERNETSKY, From Anarchy to Connectivity to Cognitive Mapping: Contemporary Ukrainian Writers of the Younger Generation Engage with Globalization	102
NATALIE KONONENKO, How God Paired Men and Women: Stories and Religious Revival in Post-Soviet Rural Ukraine	118
ALEXANDRA HRYCAK, Orange Harvest?: Women’s Activism and Civil Society in Ukraine, Belarus and Russia since 2004	151
MARYNA ROMANETS, Postcolonial On/scenity: The Sexualization of Political Space in Post-independence Ukraine	178
LAADA BILANIUK, Cultural Politics on Ukrainian Television: Language Choice and Code Switching on “Khoroshou”	200
SERHY YEKELCHYK, What Is Ukrainian about Ukraine’s Pop Culture?: The Strange Case of Verka Serduchka	217
Book Reviews / Comptes Rendus	233